

Opportunities and Challenges of Increased International Graduate Student Enrollments

Ellen H. Badger, Director
International Student and Scholar Services
Binghamton University, State University of New York

Blanca M. Ramos, Associate Professor
University at Albany, State University of New York

Northeastern Association of Graduate Schools
Halifax, Canada - April 2012

Overview

- Introductions
- Brief Institutional Profiles
 - Albany
 - Binghamton
- International Graduate Students
 - Recruitment issues
 - Retention issues
 - Students' Contributions
- Closing Thoughts
- Questions and Answers

Brief Institutional Profile: University at Albany

- A research university
- Fall 2011
 - Total student enrollment: 17,500
 - Graduate student enrollment: 4, 359
 - Total international enrollment: 1,294
 - International graduate student enrollment: 643

Brief Institutional Profile: Binghamton University

- A research university
- Fall 2011
 - Total student enrollment: 14, 746
 - Graduate student enrollment: 2, 885
 - Total international enrollment: 2,161
 - International graduate student enrollment: 884

International Graduate Students

Recruitment Issues

International Graduate Students

Retention Issues

International Graduate Students

Students' Contributions

Closing Thoughts

Questions and Answers